DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claim(s) 1-25 and 30, drawn to a method of amplification (process).

Group II, claim(s) 26-29, drawn to a product namely primer.

2. The inventions listed as Groups I and II do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons:

Chun (WO 03/050305 A1 published on 19 June 2003 with priority going back to May 1, 2002) teaches a DNA walking annealing control primer for amplifying an unknown nucleotide sequence adjacent to a known nucleotide sequence, which is represented by the following general formula I:

wherein, X_p represents a 5'-end portion having a pre-selected nucleotide sequence,

Y_q represents a regulator portion comprising at least two universal base or non-discriminatory base analog residues,

Z_r represents a degenerate random sequence portion having a degenerated random nucleotide sequence, Qs represents a 3'-end portion having a hybridizing nucleotide sequence substantially complementary to a site on said unknown nucleotide sequence to hybridize therewith, p, q, r and s represent the number of nucleotides, and X, Y, Z and Q are deoxyribonucleotide or ribonucleotide.

(See Fig. 5 of the WO document where nucleic acid containing all the above shown in step 3 as 5' oligo that is used after RT using 3' primer)

Thus primer of claim 26 was taught to one of ordinary skill in the art by Prior art at the time the invention was made. Hence Primer of group II invention does not share the same or corresponding special technical features as method of group I invention. Hence unity of invention is lacking.

3. This application contains claims directed to more than one species of the generic invention. These species are deemed to lack unity of invention because they are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

The species are as follows:

- a. Species of Annealing control Primer (claim 1 is generic)
 - i. Primer of formula I (claims 6, 26 and 29 in part)
 - ii. Primer of formula II (claims 7, 27 and 29 in part)
 - iii. Primer of formula III (claims 12, 28 and 29 in part)

Applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single species to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. The reply must also identify the claims readable on the elected species, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered non-responsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

4. The species listed above do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, the species lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons:

Each of the above primer claimed has a distinct formula and has been claimed as such.

5. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To preserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

6. The examiner has required restriction between product and process claims. Where applicant elects claims directed to the product, and the product claims are subsequently found allowable, withdrawn process claims that depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of the allowable product claim will be considered for rejoinder. All claims directed to a nonelected process invention must require all the limitations of an allowable product claim for that process invention to be rejoined.

In the event of rejoinder, the requirement for restriction between the product claims and the rejoined process claims will be withdrawn, and the rejoined process claims will be fully examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. Thus, to be allowable, the rejoined claims must meet all criteria for patentability including the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 101, 102, 103 and 112. Until all claims to the elected product are found allowable, an otherwise proper restriction requirement between product claims and process claims may be maintained. Withdrawn process claims that are not commensurate in scope with an allowable product claim will not be rejoined. See MPEP § 821.04(b). Additionally, in order to retain the right to rejoinder in accordance with the above policy, applicant is advised that the process claims should be amended during prosecution to require the limitations of the product claims. Failure to do so may result in a loss of the right to rejoinder. Further, note that the prohibition against double patenting rejections of 35 U.S.C. 121 does not apply where the restriction requirement is withdrawn by the examiner before the patent issues. See MPEP § 804.01. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to SUCHIRA PANDE whose telephone number is (571)272-9052.
